

Gulmay Medical News: October 2008

Conference Mania

September proved to be a busy month, with Gulmay Medical being presented at a host of different conferences across the world.

Things kicked off close to home with the Inaugural Symposium of the Radiation Oncology and Biology Initiative in Oxford.

Pictured far left Eric Bernhard at the evening reception of the Inaugural Symposium.

Eric is a Gulmay Medical RS user, for further information on his work click here:

<http://www.rob.ox.ac.uk>

The annual Institute of Physics and Engineering in Medicine meeting was held this year at the University of Bath. The meeting was well attended with a real mix of new faces amongst the more seasoned conference goers!

IPEM; Bath.

Despite the quick turnaround needed, we attended both the ESTRO and ASTRO meetings in Gothenburg and Boston. Both meetings were the large, well attended events we've come to expect, with excellent scientific sessions constantly commented on by delegates.

As usual the meetings provided the background for networking; meeting new people and catching up with existing users from all over the world; we're already looking forward to the meetings in Chicago and Maastricht in 2009!

ESTRO; Gothenburg

ASTRO; Boston, USA.